Potential Sire Prospect

This is a very unique ram. In January 2011 he weighed in at 150kg and has brilliant white, freegrowing wool. Sheep this big never have wool this good. The structure and plainness of N151 would make him an understandable choice for clients trying to keep their production through staple length while actually gaining bone and size.

N151 is by the prolific sire N409 and out of an AI ewe who was by N17. There are two crosses of N58 over N697 and one of N697 over N58 in this ram's pedigree which has been so successful in the past.

If you like a merino ram with size while carrying beautiful soft, white wool with extreme crimp definition, you should at least come to Nerstane and inspect this potential sire.

LEFT: THE DEPTH AND HINDQUARTER ON N151 IS OUTSTANDING.
